

Safety Services Manager

Associated Oregon Loggers, Inc. (AOL)
Salem, Oregon, United States

DESCRIPTION

Job Title: Safety Services Manager
Location: Salem, Oregon
Hours: Full-time; salaried position
Compensation: DOE

THE COMPANY

Associated Oregon Loggers, Inc. (AOL) is the statewide trade association representing and serving forest operations and logging small businesses, from its headquarters in Salem, Oregon. With our team of 17 professionals, we proudly provide voice and valued business services to more than 1,000 family-owned member companies.

SUMMARY

We are recruiting for a motivated professional to join our management team. The Safety Services Manager will perform the service and policy voice of the association, addressing specific forest business functions: operational safety, health, employment, worker training, and workforce access. This program manager delivers member programs in forest occupational health/safety/loss control; creates contemporary educational resources for forest companies and their workers; engages with industry coalitions; and makes policy with agencies and legislatures. The Manager serves on AOL's management team, reporting to the Executive Vice President.

The Manager helps member companies with their industrial employment for a high-performance safety & health culture, effective employee/operating practices, training, supervision, compliance in employment regulation, and development of qualified workforce. In assigned functional areas, the Manager represents the voice of forest contractors and working families— with agencies, coalitions, industry, policymakers, and publics— in pursuit of effective policymaking and external relations.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Manage a service and policymaking program in forest operations safety, health, employment, worker training, and forest workforce access/development
- Support AOL safety management team with forest occupational/loss control information
- Safety/health/employment/training lead
- Forest workforce supervisor/employee training lead
- Legislative voice/lobby lead – AOL lobby team member for assigned forest occupation functions
- Industry relations voice lead – advocate for assigned forest business functional areas
- Coalition lead – in regulation/policy for assigned forest occupation functional areas
- Government agency monitoring and advocacy to represent members in function policymaking
- Management team member demonstrating program leadership, coordination, and mentoring
- Association member relations to foster governance for member-driven outcomes
- Small business service and voice to deliver value to independent contractor membership
- Performance development for high-level Manager performance and personal career growth

QUALIFICATIONS

- Commitment to the mission, values and goals of Associated Oregon Loggers
- Bachelor or associate degree in forest engineering/resources, industrial safety, business, or related
- Ten+ years of experience in forest operations, industrial safety, insurance, management, or policy
- Experience with logging, forest production, small business, or trades contracting— is a plus
- Experience to influence strategy, policy, or legislation— is a plus
- Ability to acquire an Oregon Property & Casualty Insurance Producer License
- Ability to become proficient about employment and safety regulation in Oregon forest activities
- Ability and passion to advocate externally for AOL member family-owned businesses, and to deliver productive and valued service to this member-driven trade association
- Ability to collaborate with a volunteer board, trade workers, business leaders, and legislators
- Ability to develop effective forest business policy in the context of business, government, and society
- Ability to work year-long indoors, outdoors, and forest settings that include climbing slopes
- Demonstrated leadership attributes necessary for Manager professional performance
- Equipped with strong business communication, interpersonal, and analytical skills
- Valid driver's license, good driving record, and ability to travel to meetings and events statewide

PAY

Competitive salary commensurate with experience

BENEFITS

- Employer provided vehicle and paid travel expense
- Rewarding work with great people and family business
- Enriching career opportunity
- Caring family medical and dental plan
- Paid holidays, vacation and sick leave
- Generous 401(k) retirement plan and life insurance

APPLICANTS

Send resume and cover letter to:

dkliwer@oregonloggers.org

Dorena Kliwer; Associated Oregon Loggers, Inc

PO Box 12339; Salem, OR 97309

AOL is an equal opportunity employer, including disability and veterans

MORE ABOUT US

The logging and allied forest contract company members of AOL have a major role to safely manage 30 million acres of private and public forests across Oregon— as contractors, working families, employers, purchasers, and vendors of forest management. Their stewardship includes: harvesting, roading, reforestation, young forest management, transportation, protection, fuel treatment, forest health restoration, forestry services, suppliers, and allied forest management. Oregon is America's largest grower and producer of structural lumber, plywood, and engineered wood products.

Founded in 1969, AOL for over five decades has been the reliable source of business services and a proud voice for the forest contract sector—delivering group insurance, safety & health consultation, employer/business assistance, policymaking, political advocacy, professional qualification, education, industry communication, public relations, and community philanthropy. From AOL's Salem headquarters office—centrally located in the mid-Willamette Valley's commerce hub—we are accessible to Oregon's abundant forests, business, government, as well as its best recreation and lifestyles in either urban or rural environs. Visit our website at: www.oregonloggers.org